TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS.

In a recent lecture delivered in New York city, Mr. Wm. L. Stone gave the following amusing instances of what are known as typographical errors:

In the early stages of the art of printing, errors were far more numerous than in books of modern execution. It was then very common for a volume of ordinary size to contain page upon page of errata at the close. One of the most remarkable instances of this kind, was the curious treatise of Edward Leigh on "Religion and Learning," published in 1656. At the close of the work were three folio pages of corrections in very minute type. It is a singular fact that the edition of the Latin Vulgate by Pope Sixtus V., although carefully superintended, sheet by sheet, by His Holiness, has ever remained without a rival in typographical inaccuracy. Still more curious was the fact that the Pope, in the plenitude of his pontifical infallibility, prefixed to the first volume a bull of excommunication against any and every printer, who, in reprinting the work, should ever make any alteration in the text. Among instances of typographical errors the lecturer gave the following: A lad in a printing office, who knew more about type-setting than he did of the Greek mythology, in looking over a poem they were printing, came upon the name of Hecate, one of the lady divinities of the lower world, occurring in a line like this: "She shall reign the Hecate of the deepest hell." The boy, thinking he had discovered an error, ran to the master printer, and inquired eagerly whether there was an E in cat. "Why, no, you blockhead," was the reply. Away went the boy to the press-room and extracted the objectionable letter. But fancy the horror of both poet and publisher when the poem appeared with the line—"She shall reign the He Cat of the deepest Hell." This, however, was not so bad as the manner in which the printers treated Miss Landor.—In speaking of it she says: "And when I had written it 'full blown roses,' the nasty things made it 'full blown noses.'" Benjamin Franklin once putting to press a form of the Common Prayer, the letter c in the following passage dropped out unperceived by him, "We shall all be changed in the twinkling of an eye." When the book appeared, to the horror of the devout worshippers, the passage read: "We shall all be hanged in the twinkling of an eye." Franklin has been suspected of having done this intentionally, but it appears to me without good reason. But, after all, when it is considered of how many separate and minute pieces of metal a book form or the pages of a newspaper are composed, the wonder is that the errors of the Press are not far more numerous than they are. A single page of one of our largest papers cannot contain less than 315,000 separate pieces of metal, each of which must be nicely adjusted in its own proper place, or error and confusion will ensue.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.

The bill conferring suffrage on females in religious societies having passed the Senate, one of the clearest heads who favored it predicts that it is the beginning of suffrage on political affairs, and quotes the remarks of a learned judge who recently said that the law permitted the wife to make a servant of her husband—paying him wages, and allowing him what, in her judgment, should be a reasonable support! Why, man, the husband is always the servant of the wife, only the parties don't always know it. The wife rules supreme as the rule, and where she don't it is an exception to the rule. The husband labors from eight to twenty hours a day, down town and up, to make his wife mistress of the dwelling, where he gets, at most, three meals a day and a night's lodging. If he is able, she gets a pew in church, her equipage, her opera box, her town house and country house, her silks and satins and elegant attire—the very best the Old World and new afford—and the husband, poor soul, has the privilege of sleeping at home, with sometimes a Caudle lecture thrown in, and, perchance, shot roll and an egg in the morning. But it seems this is not enough.—Molly Dolly Adelaide demands the right of suffrage, and who dare say nay to her demand? It is now given at the South to all Africa, young an old, of the masculine sex, and why not to our darling wives, upon whom we lavish the labor of our lives to make them our bosses while we live, and to leave them all we can save when we die!—Yes, what is thus begun in "religious societies" will end in a common rostrum, a common ballot box and a common row. We live in the progressive age. Let us make the most of it. Pegasus is no longer a myth, but a burly African and the Goddess of Liberty, each with the ballot in hand, even if it is necessary to win it with the bullet.—N. Y. Herald.

FLORIDA.—A correspondent writing from Pensacola to the New York Herald, states that "the appointments of General Pope for this district give universal satisfaction, and his first general order breathes the true spirit of a gentleman and an officer.

"Brevet Major General Truman Seymour commands at Barrancas; here he is a great favorite. I saw on yesterday a petition to General Grant—which had a long list of names to it—to have General Seymour retained here in command, as we had learned he was to be ordered to some other point. The desire is general that the application will meet with success."

The Great Eastern sailed over to America to take back three thousand passengers to the Paris Exposition. Two thousand eight hundred and nine did not go. She departed on Tuesday, with one hundred and ninety-one. This is the greatest illustration of "great expectations" unrealized that has occurred since the publication of Stevens' Confiscation speech, several thousand copies of which Forney has still on hand and is anxious to sell off, at ruinously low prices. —Pet. Express.

The Grand Master of Masons in Minnesota has issued an earnest appeal to the brethren of his jurisdiction, to contribute money for the relief of the starving poor of the South, the amount to be forwarded to the Grand Master of the different States for distribution.

Over 200,000 North Carolina shad have been shipped to the Northern markets, via the Albemarle and Chesapeake canal, during the present fishing season.

Chief Justice Chase, of the Supreme Court has appointed Judges Nelson, Swayne and Miller a commission to prepare the forms and practice under the new bankrupt law.

IMPORTANT ORDER BY GENERAL SICKLES.

HEADQ'RS, SECOND MILITARY DIST., Charleston, S. C., April 11, 1867.

The general destitution prevailing among the population of this military district cannot be relieved without affording means for the development of their industrial resources. The nature and extent of the destitution demand extraordinary measures. The people are borne down by a heavy burden of debt; the crops of grain and garden produce failed last year; many families have been deprived of shelter, many more need food and clothing; needful implements and auxiliaries of husbandry are very scarce; the laboring population in numerous localities are threatened with starvation unless supplied with food by the government of the United States; the inability of a large portion of the people to pay taxes leaves the local authorities without adequate means of relief, and the gravity of the situation is increased by the general disposition shown by creditors to enforce upon an impoverished people the immediate collection of all claims. To suffer all this to go on without restraint or remedy is to sacrifice the general good. The rights of creditors shall be respected, but the appeal of want and suffering must be heeded. Moved by these considerations, the following regulations are announced, and they will continue in force, with such modification as the occasion may require, until the civil government of the respective States shall be established in accordance with the requirements of the government of the United States. The Commanding General earnestly desires and confidently believes that the observance of these regulations,and the co-operation of all persons concerned in employing fairly and justly the advantages still remaining to them, will mitigate the distress now existing, and that the avenues of industry, enterprize and organization thus opened will contribute to the permanent welfare and future happiness of the people:—

First—Imprisonment for debt is prohibited unless the defendant in execution shall be convicted of a fraudulent concealment or disposition of his property with intent to hinder, delay and prevent the creditor in the recovery of his debt or demand; and the proceedings now established in North and South Carolina respectively for the trial and determining of such questions may be adopted.

Second—Judgment or decrees for the payment of money on causes of action arising between the 19th of December, 1860, and the 15th of May, 1865, shall not be enforced by execution against the property or the person of the defendant. Proceedings in such causes of action now pending shall be stayed, and no suit or process shall be hereafter instituted or commenced for any such causes of action

Third—Sheriffs, coroners and constables are hereby directed to suspend for twelve calendar months the sale of all property upon execution or process on liabilities contracted prior to the 19th of December, 1860, unless upon the written consent of the defendants, except in cases where the plaintiff, or in his absence his agent or attorney, shall upon oath, with corroborative testimony, allege and prove that the defendant is moving or intends fraudulently to remove his property beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the court. The sale of real or personal property by foreclosure of mortgage is likewise suspended for twelve calendar months, except in cases where the payment of interest money accruing since the 15th day of May, 1865, shall not have been made before the day of sale.

Fourth—Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled on causes of action arising subsequent to the 15th of May, 1865, may be enforced by execution against the property of the defendant, and in the application of the money arising under such executions regard shall be had to the priority of liens, unless in cases where the good faith of any lien shall be drawn in question. In such cases, the usual mode of proceeding adopted in North and South Carolina respectively to determine that question shall be adopted.

Fifth—All proceedings for the recovery of money under contracts, whether under seal or by parole, the consideration for which was the purchase of negroes, are suspended. Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled for such causes of action shall not be enforced.

Sixth—All advances of moneys, subsistence, implements and fertilizers loaned, used, employed or required for the purpose of aiding the agricultural pursuits of the people shall be protected, and the existing laws which have provided the most efficient remedies in such cases for the lender will be supported and enforced. Wages for labor performed in the production of the crops shall be a lien on the crop, and payment of the amount due for such wages shall be enforced by the like remedies provided to secure advances of money and other means for the cultivation of the soil.

Seventh—In all sales of property and execution or by order of any court, there shall be reserved out of the property of any defendant who has a family dependent upon his or her labor, a dwelling house and appurtenances and twenty acres of land for the use and occupation of the family of the defendant, and necessary articles of furniture, apparel, subsistence, implements of trade, husbandry or other employment of the value of $500. The homestead exemption shall enure only to the benefit of families—that is to say, parent or parents and child or children—in other cases the exemption shall extend only to clothing, implements of trade or other employment usually followed by the defendant, of the value of $100. The exempted property of the defendant shall be ascertained by the Sheriff or other officer enforcing the execution, who shall specifically describe the same and make a report thereof in each case to the Court.

Eighth.—The currency of the United States declared by the Congress of the United States to be a legal tender in the payment of all debts, dues and demands, shall be so recognized in North and South Carolina, and all cases in which the same shall be tendered in payment and refused by any public officer will be at once reported to these headquarters, or to the commanding officer of the post within which such officer resides.

Ninth—Property of an absent debtor or one charged as such without fraud, whether consisting of money advanced for the purposes of agriculture or appliances for the cultivation of the soil, shall not be taken under the process known as foreign attachment; but the lien created by any existing law shall not be disturbed, nor shall the possession or the use of the same be in any wise interfered with except in the execution of a judgment or final decree in cases where they are authorized to be enforced.

Tenth—In suits to recover ordinary debts known as actions ex contractu, bail, as heretofore authorized, shall not be demanded by the suitor nor taken by the sheriff or other officer serving the process; in suits for trespass, libel, wrongful conversion of property and other cases, known as actions ex delicto, bail, as heretofore authorized, may be demanded and taken. The prohibition of bail in cases ex contractu shall not extend to parties about to leave the State; but the fact of intention must be clearly established by proof.

Eleventh—In criminal proceedings the usual recognizances shall be required and taken by the proper civil officers heretofore authorized by law to take the same, provided that upon complaint being made to any magistrate or other person authorized by law to issue a warrant for breach of the peace or any criminal offence, it shall be the duty of such magistrate or officer to issue his warrant on the recognizance of the complainant to prosecute without requiring him to give security on such recognizance.

Twelfth—The practice of carrying deadly weapons, except by officers and soldiers in the military service of the United States, is prohibited. The concealment of such weapons on the person will be deemed an aggravation of the offence. A violation of this order will render the offender amenable to trial and punishment by military commission. Whenever wounding or killing shall result from the use of such weapons, proof of the party carrying or concealing a deadly weapon shall be deemed evidence of a felonious attempt to take the life of the injured person.

Thirteenth—The order heretofore issued in this military department prohibiting the punishment of crimes and offences by whipping, maiming, branding, stocks, pillory or other corporal punishment, is in force and will be obeyed by all persons.

Fourteenth—The punishment of death in certain cases of burglary and larceny imposed by the existing laws of the provisional governments in this military district is abolished. Any person convicted of burglary or of larceny, when the property stolen is of the value of $25, of assault and battery with intent to kill, or of any assault with a deadly weapon, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not exceeding ten years nor less than two years, in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction thereof. Larceny, when the value thereof is less than $25, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not exceeding one year in the discretion of the court.

Fifteenth—The Governors of North and South Carolina shall have authority within their jurisdiction respectively to reprieve or pardon any person convicted and sentenced by a civil court and to remit fines and penalties.

Sixteenth—Nothing in this order shall be construed to restrain or prevent the operation of proceedings in bankruptcy in accordance with the acts of Congress in such cases made and provided for, with the collection of any tax, impost, excise or charge levied by authority of the United States or of the provisional governments of North and South Carolina; but no imprisonment for over due taxes shall be allowed, nor shall this order or any law of the provisional governments of North and South Carolina operate to deny to minor children coming of age, or their legal representatives, nor to suspend as to them, any right of action, remedy or proceeding against executors, administrators, trustees, guardians, masters or clerks of equity courts, or other officers or persons holding a fiduciary relation to the parties or the subject matter of the action or proceeding.

Seventeenth—Any law or ordinance heretofore in force in North or South Carolina inconsistent with the provisions of this General Order is hereby suspended and declared inoperative.

By command of Major General D. E. SICKLES.
J. W. CLOUS, Captain Thirty-Eigth United States Infantry, A. D. C. and A. A. A. G.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1867.

Death of Hon. R. M. Saunders.

We regret to have to announce the death of this distinguished gentleman. He departed this life, at his residence in this City, on yesterday afternoon, after a protracted illness. He had attained the advanced age of 76 years, and few men in the country have filled a larger measure of usefulness, or occupied more or higher positions of prominence and trust.

Judge Saunders was born in Caswell County, in March, 1791. In his early manhood, he removed to Tennessee, where he studied law under the Hon. Hugh Lawson White, and was licensed to practice in 1812. He then returned to North Carolina and was elected to the House of Commons in 1815,—serving until 1820,—and was speaker of the House in 1819 and 1820. In the latter year, he was elected a member of Congress and served until 1827. In 1828, he was elected Attorney General of the State. In 1833, he was appointed by the President one of the Board of Commissioners to decide and allot the amounts due citizens of the United States for injuries by France, as settled by treaty of July 4, 1831. In 1831, he was elected by the Legislature a Judge of the Supreme Court, but resigned in 1840, on being nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor, in opposition to the Hon. Jno. M. Morehead. Many of our readers will remember the memorable canvass of the State by these two gentlemen, as being perhaps the ablest and most excited ever conducted in North Carolina. In this contest, Judge Saunders was defeated by about 8,000 votes.

In 1841, he was again elected to Congress and served until 1845. In 1846, he was appointed, by President Polk, Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States to Spain, where he remained until the latter part of 1849. In his official capacity at this Court, he made the well-known overtures to Spain for the purchase of Cuba, which excited so much comment at the time.

In 1850, he was again elected a member of the House of Commons from the county of Wake. Subsequently, he was again elected to the bench of the Superior Court, which position he held up to the close of the war, since which time he has been entirely withdrawn from public life, and has been gradually sinking under the weight of years.

Gen. Saunders was, in his palmy days, one of the ablest political speakers as well as one of best criminal lawyers that the State has produced. He was a gentleman of great force of character and much native kindliness of heart. In private life, he was exemplary and above reproach. In his death, the State has lost another of those distinguished sons, the loss of so many of whom, within a few years past, she has been called upon to mourn.

THE COLORED MEETING.

A large concourse of the colored citizens of Wake assembled on the Capitol Square, to-day, at 11 o'clock, in pursuance of notice heretofore given. We were gratified to see so large a number in attendance, notwithstanding the extra-ordinary efforts that were made to prevent a good attendance.—We have rarely seen, in the City of Raleigh, so quiet, orderly and attentive a crowd.

The hour at which we go to press precludes any extended notice of the meeting, to-day, or of the speeches of Gov. Worth and Messrs. Battle and Gales,—all of which were received with decided favor and exhibitions of approval. We engaged, for the occasion, the services of a competent stenographer, and will be able to-morrow to present a full abstract of the speeches on the occasion.

We may simply say, for to-day, that we trust that this movement is but the beginning—and that our colored people will be frequently addressed by our leading citizens, at every point in the State.

Before Gov. Worth closed his remarks, we were compelled to leave. We learn that, when the Governor closed, James H. Harris, Jas. F. Taylor and James Jones were called up, all of whom addressed the crowd.

OUTRAGE UPON A COLORED MAN IN ROCHESTER.—The Rochester Express, of a recent date, has the following:

"Nathan Sprague, a colored man, and son-in-law to Frederick Douglass, lately purchased a coach and horses, with a view of running it as a public conveyance, having procured his license. He took his stand at the regular place on the east side near the Osburn House, notwithstanding threats from certain quarters that no "d—d nigger" should run as a hackman in Rochester. On Monday evening of last week, the same day Sprague commenced business, and while his back was turned a moment, his coach was badly cut up and disfigured, so as to render it unfit for use until repairs were made, which were quite expensive, as the top, cushions, and other parts were nearly destroyed. Sprague is a quiet, inoffensive man, and minds his own business."

The Conservative Negroes of this city have a paper now in circulation, to which are already appended the names of some of our best and most respectable colored citizens, inviting Rev. John E. Edwards, Colonel R. E. Withers, Hon. W. D. Branch, Major James Garland, Mr. A. M. Trible, and Mr. John O. L. Goggin, to address them on some convenient public occasion on the political duties of the hour.—Lynchburg Republican.

MR. DAVIS'S TRIAL.—Attorney-General Stanbery is said to have recently remarked to the District Attorney of Virginia, that Jeff. Davis must be disposed of during the coming term of the Circuit Court of the United States, which meets at Richmond on the first Monday in May.—New York Tribune.

ORGANIZATION.

The last Wilmington Dispatch contains some good suggestions upon the subject of organization in this State, among those who are opposed to the Radical movement contemplated by the Holdenites in our midst. The force of organization must be admitted in every enterprise, whether political, moral or economical. In partizan contests it has been found to be essential to success, in most cases. The ordinary political machinery, employed in past times, has been exceedingly demoralizing and pernicious, and it would be well, if, in initiating the new order of things, growing out of the success of ultra abolition principles, so far, a better system, less hampering to the private judgment and to the independence of voters, could be inaugurated. The systems of caucuses and Conventions of the people in primary meetings, have been so entirely subjugated to the selfish purposes of demagogues, and secret associations have been so controlled to the uses of bad, selfish men, we should rejoice that more simple and less injurious apparatus could be employed.

It is, however, clear that the machinery, which has been revived by the Holdenites in this State, is similar to that employed in the past, and rendered more offensive by secret organizations, by which thousands of ignorant persons are to be misled, to the injury of themselves and of society.

The good people of North Carolina, who sincerely desire the restoration of the Union, peace and concord with the whole nation, and quiet and good order among themselves, cannot remain inactive and indifferent to the agitating, offensive and radical measures aimed at by the Holdenites of this State. We have entirely misconceived or misjudged the views and purposes of the people of North Carolina, if they are ready to submit to the dragooning policy of the Holdenites, without making some effort to counteract the evil.

The Dispatch, looking to the probable results, if our people remain indifferent to the efforts of the enemies of peace, makes the following suggestions:

"In view of such a contingency, action, speedy and earnest action, is demanded by the Conservative people of the State. A perfect and thorough organization should be perfected, having its foundation in public meetings and political associations—not secret—in every precinct of the State. Committees should be appointed, in every district of every County, composed of men of intelligence and integrity, to which should be entrusted the duty of instructing the people as to their qualification to vote, and of urging upon all the imperative necessity of registering and going to the polls. In every County there should be a Central Committee and a Central Association to keep posted in regard to all matters affecting the elections, and to disseminate information and documents, and to procure speakers to wage an earnest canvass on the hustings.—Beyond this, there should be a State Association, and a State Committee, to the directions and counsels of which all County and Precinct Associations should submit, and appeal for information, guidance et cetera, when in doubt as to the propriety of measures in contemplation."

The registration of voters, if it is thoroughly made, must consume some time. The general ignorance which prevails among the voters, will demand a very thorough and protracted canvass for the Convention. We are therefore of opinion that it would be good policy, if, in all the Counties, at once, the conservative men should bring out their best men who are eligible to seats in the Convention, as candidates, and let the canvass begin at an early day. This will be essential, in order to induce large numbers to register their names at all. It is well known, that many, both white and colored, are indifferent to either registering or voting. Extraordinary efforts will be necessary to persuade many to do so; there fore the importance of a canvass before the registration is complete.

POLITICS ON BEHRING'S STRAITS.—Now that Russian-America is to be a part of the United States, there will, no doubt, be a great scramble for offices among the Esquimaux of a political turn of mind. Perhaps Congress, remarks the Philadelphia Ledger, may be persuaded to admit it as a new State, and the hospitalities of Congress will be shared by Esquimaux prepared with long speeches to enlighten the world about fish oil and the fur trade. At any rate, a territorial government will probably be erected at an early day, and the delegate from New Archangel be given his $5,000 pay and $20,000 mileage per annum for sitting in the House and listening to the eloquence of the members. $25,000 a year is enough to make politics lively among the Esquimaux, to whom the right of suffrage will at once be extended, and stump oratory and torchlight processions will soon be at a premium among the icebergs. Who is the first candidate for territorial Governor, and who does not want to be post master and collector of customs at Sitka?

At Omoo, Wisconsin, on the 8th instant, a lady named Mrs. Furman, who had been separated from her husband about two years, and who was acting as housekeeper for a gentleman in that place, administered a dose of strychnine to her little daughter, aged about two years, in some milk. She sat down quietly, with the child on her lap, and watched the effect of the poison until the child was dead. She then took a dose of the poison and in ten minutes was a corpse. She had been for some time endeavoring to get a divorce from her husband, at the same time laboring under the delusion that the gentleman for whom she was keeping house would marry her. A few days previous to the tragedy the gentleman married another lady, and her disappointment induced her to commit the deed.

"During the last few weeks there have been as many as one thousand artizans at work simultaneously upon the Great Eastern steamship. The big ship has three thousand passenger berths. In supplying the beds required for the several berths twenty-seven thousand yards of linen have been used, together with forty tons of curled hair and wool, and for sheets, pillows and bolster slips thirty thousand yards of linen, while twenty hundred white counterpanes have been supplied in addition to those already in use, besides eleven thousand yards of toweling."

The remains of J. Paget, French Minister in Washington, during the Jackson administration, are about to be removed from Nashville to France. He married Miss Lewis, a Tennessee belle, and died at Nashville, in 1864.

PRESENTMENT.

The following presentment was made by the Grand Jury, at the late term of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of Cabarrus County. It involves a matter of interest to the people and deserves consideration:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, }
CABARRUS COUNTY. }

Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, April Term, 1867.

The Grand Jurors, representing the body of the County, would respectfully present the existing judiciary system of this State, as a burthen and a grievance to the mass of the people, in their reduced and impoverished condition. Large numbers, of all classes, are taken from their labors and pursuits as jurors, witnesses and suitors, to attend four and six terms of the court a year, at great loss of time, and heavy expense to themselves, and with little or no advantage to the public in the dispatch of judicial business. The Grand Jurors desire in this way to call attention to the evil, in the hope of inviting enquiry, as to whether a change for the better might not be effected, by substituting for the present complex system, one more simple in its form, and less expensive and numerous in its terms.—It is believed that a Probate system, and three well regulated terms of the Superior Court a year, as recommended by Governor Graham in 1848, would dispatch all the public business, with a vast saving in time, trouble and expense to the citizens, and furnish a surer guarantee for the more speedy and certain administration of justice.

[From the Wilson Carolinian]

The Standard, of the 18th, contains an extract from the Jersey City Times, in reference to a festival lately held in Columbus, Ga., the proceeds of which were intended for the benefit of the family of Ex-President Davis, and adds, as a commentary upon the remarks of the Times, the following letter, purporting to have been written by the widow of a Confederate soldier, living in this county:

"MR. HOLDEN—I am a poor soldier's widow, and have no assistance at all. My husband was conscripted, dragged off to the war, and killed.—He left me and his children without a home. The place where I live has been sold, and I am to be put out of doors, and where to go I know not. I have no money and scarcely nothing to eat.—My work will not support my children. I was told by a friend to ask you what to do. My husband was a loyal man, but he was poor—and consequently he was bound to obey.'

We cannot deny that Mr. Holden received the letter given above. We have only to say that in the issue of the Carolinian, bearing date the 20th of March, we inserted the following notice, and that no such case has come to our notice:

"RELIEF FOR THE DESTITUTE.—We will esteem it a favor, if some of our friends will give us the names of such destitute and suffering persons in the county as are really deserving help. We are prepared to relieve them to a limited extent, and desire their names and residences".

If, therefore, this widow be suffering she has certainly not availed herself of the offered aid. We are ready now to give her assistance, and if the editor of the Standard will furnish us her name, or place us in communication with her, and she will substantiate the facts alleged, we pledge ourselves that she shall be immediately assisted. We know the people of Wilson, and we know them to be too generous and philanthropic to permit any one to suffer so long as they have the ability to aid them.

Gold rose suddenly, yesterday, to 36 and a fraction, upon a rumor of impending political trouble in France. The rumor was that an insurrection against the Imperial Government was impending. There was never a time, perhaps, when a popular revolt would be so entirely hopeless as at present. All France is armed to the teeth. The army is well cared for, and may be entirely relied upon by the Emperor. As to the populace, they are crying for bread.—Trade and industry in France are quite dull. They languish under taxation, arbitrary rule, and threatened war.

But however disquieted may be the public mind of France, the Emperor must now take steps to secure his dynasty. He cannot do that without a war, and a great and triumphant war. France is, therefore, now in a critical condition, with discontent within, and hostility without.—National Intelligencer, 20th.

THE NEGRO'S BEST FRIEND.—Now that universal suffrage has been decreed, the only object of all should be that it should be exercised with judgment, and with a view to the harmony and not the antagonism of the races. * * Those who, from whatever quarter, are seeking to create agitation, dissension, and strife or to put enmity or ill-will between the races, or to create distrust, are their worst enemies. They may assume the guise of friends and utter the words of flattery, but it is not for the sake of philanthropy, patriotism, or right, but for selfish aggrandisement and mere party elevation. The State should not be turned over to agitating politicians and incompetent rulers. This would inflict a common injury. It would be on their part a suicidal policy. Let the colored people feel assured that in the people of our State they will find those who are their reliable friends, and on whom they can lean for support and advancement. —Charleston Courier.

A Texas paper tells of a young couple who eloped on horseback, accompanied by a clergyman who was to marry them. The lady's father gave chase, and was overtaking the party when the lady called out to her clerical friend, "Can't you marry us as we run?" The idea took, and he commenced the ritual, and just as the bride's father clutched her bridle rein, the clergyman pronounced the lovers man and wife. The father was so pleased with the dashing action that, as the story goes, he gave them his blessing.

In the early part of the war an old Tennessee gentleman, who had one son in the Federal and another in the rebel army, was taken ill, and wishing to divide his property equally between his two sons, bequeathed to Henry (the Federal soldier) all his slave property, embracing about fifty negroes, and to Thomas (the boy in gray) his entire landed estate. He died, and thus the will stands. Both brothers lived to return from the war; and slavery being among the things that were, Thomas generously divided the land with his brother.—National Republican.

THE REGISTRY.

Yesterday the registration of voters under Gen. Sheridan's order commenced in this city. The time during which the registration is to continue is limited to a month. There is no reason for delay on the part of voters, other than that arising from the necessities of the case. We hope that every citizen will register at the earliest possible moment. Procrastination is a bad ally at a time like this. Postponement of the duty, even for a day, may involve a loss of the privilege.

It is to be hoped, likewise, that the registrars will alter and improve their present arrangements. Proceedings of this kind ought to be open and public. Anything like secresy only has the effect of exciting and irritating the public mind, and arousing suspicions of unfair dealing. As an example we may refer to the manner in which the registry is conducted in the Second District. The registrars hold their session in a house which, to all appearance, is sealed against scrutiny and entrance. A crowd of persons wait at the barricaded door anxious to comply with the forms of the law, but only a few are admitted at a time. Now this system may conduce to the personal comfort of the officials; but it is very unpleasant to the numbers of persons who are compelled to stand in the street exposed to the hot sun. Besides, if the registrars wish to convince the public that they are acting fairly, they should avoid all appearance of mystery and concealment. It is quite as necessary that the registry be conducted in public as that elections be held in public. To shut up a polling place while votes are received is considered prima facie evidence of fraud; and to close a registry office during business hours has the same appearance. We trust that the registrars will take this matter into consideration, and adopt some plan by which a due amount of publicity may be assured.—New Orleans Crescent, 16th

MORALS OF MEMPHIS.—The Memphis Avalanche says that there are in that city fourteen gambling houses, each of which pays $100 monthly blackmail to the police. There are nineteen brothels. Their contribution to the police is $25 each month.—Each inmate pays an additional $10 every month. A short time ago a very bold robbery was committed—$1,400 were stolen.—By appointment, a policeman met the robbers at a gambling house, to obtain the share of the police. It being difficult to effect a division, the money was sent out and changed, the policeman waiting the return of the messenger.

A BILL has been introduced into the New York Legislature for the incorporation of a company for laying pipes to conduct the mineral waters from Saratoga Springs to New York city. The Journal of Commerce says: Some years ago, upon the discovery of the Pavilion Spring, Daniel McLaren agitated the project, supposing that such a plan was feasible. A very little investigation, however, satisfied the citizens of that village that it was impossible. Experiment demonstrated that the accumulation of gas in the pipes would soon stop all flow of water, which cannot be conducted in closed pipes more than a few rods.

What are known as the "Big Trees" of California, it is said, are being successfully grown in New York State. Some fourteen years ago, a gentleman, residing near Rochester, made plantations of these gigantic trees from seeds procured in California, and the progress already made gives proof that some two or three thousand years hence they will attain their full growth.—These trees grow to a hight of 300 to 360 feet, and a circumference of 100 feet around the trunk, and such citizens of Rochester as live to the year A. D. 4867 will be sure to see them in the glory of their prime.

A Paris correspondent states that in that city there is a coachman who has become a celebrity from having an India rubber tongue. A cancer on his tongue rendering amputation necessary, the operation was successfully performed, and the lost tongue replaced by one of India rubber. Although he cannot speak, he tastes, swallows, and smokes his pipe with evident enjoyment; and after eating, takes out his tongue as one does a set of teeth, generally carrying it in his pocket between his repasts.

HATS IN MADAGASCAR.—The Queen of Madagascar is said to have issued a terrible proclamation, forbidding civilians to wear hats with brims. Government officers, of the Malgache type, are alone allowed to retain the old-fashioned head-piece. The poorer citizens continue to wear their old hats—simply proving their loyalty by tearing off the brim.

SHAD IN THE POTOMAC.—A Washington dispatch says: "Enormous quantities of shad and herring are being caught in the Potomac. Over a hundred thousand herring sold on Tuesday for about six dollars per thousand, and twenty thousand shad for about ten dollars per hundred."

PORTSMOUTH, VA., March 22d. 1867.

IT has been understood by the officers in charge of transportation via the Seaboard Inland Freight Route, that letters addressed to the Railroad Agent at Portsmouth, on the subject of freights, are unanswered, and that in consequence, causes of delay are not explained, and claims for losses and damage unsettled, and as the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, who are the forwarding agents for the line, are satisfied that these causes of complaint are not due to their Agents, but to the inaccuracy of the mails, in order to test this subject, the Manager of the Seaboard Road requests that whenever persons have written to the undersigned Agent of the Seaboard Road, and after waiting a reasonable time for a reply, have not received it, that they will address him a letter enclosing a duplicate of the letter they had previously addressed to the agent. MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Bacon, Butter, Potatoes, Syrups, &c:—Douglas Bell, Market Square.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Solomon Boylan, colored, for a misdemeanor in the Market House, was lodged in the Guard House.

For the Sentinel.

GENTLEMEN:—The North Carolina soldiers in the late war, to whose lot it fell to campaign in the Valley of Virginia, will never forget the little village of Mount Jackson. It was near this place that Stonewall Jackson and Gen. Fremont fought.—The battle between Seigle and Breckinridge ended within a mile of the place. A half a dozen or more other battles were fought near it.

There was an extensive Hospital at this place, and many a man, from both armies, breathed his last at the Mount Jackson Hospital. The burying ground for this Hospital lies about a mile North of the village, directly on the turnpike to Winchester, and between that road and the Manassas Gap Railroad. Here sleep their last sleep a goodly number of men from your State—my adopted State.

Mrs. Gen. Meem, residing near the place, has sent me a copy of the address of the officers of the Memorial Association, that has had these graves cared for, which, had you space to spare, I would ask you to copy. She has given me the names of such soldiers as have head-boards remaining, which I would ask you to publish, as there may be names here of some, whose burial spot may be unknown to their parents.

The ladies desire to raise a permanent fund for keeping up the Cemetery. If any persons in North Carolina desire to aid in this work, they can address the amount to Miss R. J. Pennybacker, Mt. Jackson, Shenandoah Co. Va., or I will forward it, if addressed to me.

MRS. HENRY HARDIE,
Raleigh, N. C.

[We publish, with great pleasure, the foregoing communication from Mrs. Hardie, and will insert the list of North Carolina dead, buried in the cemetery near Mt. Jackson, to-morrow. As stated by Mrs. H., the vicinity of this delightful little town was the scene of many engagements during the war, and one of the most extensive hospitals in the Valley was located there. Consequently, a large number of dead are buried there,—North Carolina contributing, as usual, her full quota to the martyred number. The ladies of Mt. Jackson, than whom there are none nobler or more self-sacrificing, have collected these remains together in a beautiful Cemetery. We hope that those of our citizens, who can possibly afford to do so, will aid them in their pious labors.]

LITERARY.—From the Publisher's house, the Metropolitan Record office, of New York, we have received a handsomely printed little novelette of the war, entitled The McDonalds, or the Ashes of Southern Homes,—a tale of Sherman's march, by William Henry Peck, of Georgia. It is founded upon facts and incidents which occurred during the march of Sherman, and its pages doubtless abound with real interest to the reader.

THE BANKRUPT LAW of Congress goes into effect on the 15th. of May.

MASSACHUSETTS PROSPERITY.—Massachusetts five per cent. bonds being quoted higher in the market than United States five per cents., interest and principal payable in gold, it is asked why should this be so?—The Chicago Times replies:

"We suppose the reason is that Massachusetts, founded on Plymouth rock, taxing the whole country to support its manufactures, and, in time of war, making contracts, instead of losing men and money fighting, is a much more safe debtor than the Federal Government."

The vestry of the Episcopal Church of Selma, Ala., have resolved upon rebuilding their church, and it is to be made "A memorial to the late Rt. Rev. Leonidas Polk, D. D."

Col. Charles Farnsworth was drowned at Savannah, Georgia, on Monday evening, together with a man named Wilder, who was with him in a sail-boat. Colonel Farnsworth was born in Hartford, Connecticut.

The prospect for a large crop of peaches in Delaware is reported to be very flattering. In Sussex County a gentleman from New York is planting about 7,000 trees, and other orchards are forming. Delaware peach trees retain their vigor many years.

THE SENTIMENTS OF A FREEDMAN.

[From the Macon Journal and Messenger, April 5.]

At a freedmen's meeting held in Valdosta, Georgia, on the 25th ultimo, the assembly was addressed by several colored men, one of whom, Moses Hodge, is reported as having given utterance to the following sentiments, which are as creditable to his intelligence as they are honorable to his heart:

In response to call Moses Hodge took the floor. He spoke in a manner earnest, sincere and impressive. He said, I am an unlearnt man, not used to speaking; but I know what I feel and think. I was born in Georgia.—I am a Southern born man and expect to die here. I was once a slave and had to obey a master. I am a freedman now and must obey the laws of the country. I have no ill feeling against the white man because I was once a slave. I hope the white man has no ill feelings towards me because I am free. So far as I know and have seen, I find no bad feeling between us. When I was a slave I was not abused. Since I have been free no one has tried to wrong me in any way. I have lived in this town six years, and I never had cause to complain of any one. I find that my straightest steps are my best ones. I know that a man that acts right will have respect.

The colored man that behaves politely will meet politeness, and always have friends. I am willing to live among my white friends, and I believe they are willing for me to stay here. I am willing to trust my white friends—I know them. I am a Georgian from the bottom of my heart—yes, from the sole of my foot to the crown of my head. I wish to see this town prosper and this country prosper. I wish the welfare of my white friends and my colored friends. We all live here and expect to live here. I know we can get along in a kind and friendly manner, and be a help to one another, and believe we will. When I live among people and know them, and find them kind, I am willing to trust them. I trust people I know.

Monday Morning Dispatches.

THE U. S. SENATE—THE SURRATT TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

In the Senate, on yesterday, Mr. Sumner offered the following resolution, proposing the good offices of the United States between the contending parties in Mexico:

WHEREAS, The Republic of Mexico, though relieved from the presence of a Foreign enemy, by the final withdrawal of French troops, continues to be convulsed by a bloody civil war, in which the Mexicans are ranged on opposite sides; And whereas, the United States are bound by neighborhood, and republican sympathies, to do all in their power for the welfare of the Mexican people, and this obligation becomes more apparent from the present condition of affairs, where each party is embittered by a protracted conflict; Therefore,

Resolved, That it is proper for the government of the United States, acting in the interests of humanity and civilization, to tender its good offices, by way of mediation, between the contending parties of the Republic of Mexico, in order to arrest a deplorable civil war and to obtain the establishment of a Republican government on the foundations of peace and harmony.

Mr. Henderson gave notice of his intention to offer the following, as a substitute:

Resolved, by the Senate of the United States, That in case Maximilian shall, at an early day, see fit to abdicate his authority in Mexico, and shall signify a desire to withdraw himself, and his Foreign troops from the country, to the end that civil war may at once be terminated, the Senate would be gratified that the President would tender the good offices of our government to secure at the hands of the Republican government of Mexico, for the native followers of Maximilian, such kind treatment as characterizes the conduct of civilized warfare.

The resolution and substitute were laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Cole submitted the following, which lies over:

Whereas, A misunderstanding exists between France and Prussia springing out of the ownership of the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg; and war between those powers is imminent: Therefore,

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to offer its friendly mediation to the end that effusion of blood may be avoided.

No decision has yet been arrived at, on the motion to postpone Surratt's trial.

FOREIGN NEWS

BERLIN, April 19, P. M.

The Prussian government has sent a strong note to Napoleon, asking the reasons for the military preparations on the part of the French.

The Bavarian agent has been sent by King William to secure an alliance with the Emperor of Austria.

LONDON, April 20.

A dispatch from Berlin this day says: "A plan for the solution of the Luxemburg question was recently submitted to France and Prussia by the remaining great powers of Europe. Napoleon has since signified his willingness to accept the proposition embraced in this plan. Prussia, however, has not replied. There is a growing feeling in the best informed circles, this evening, that these overtures will be successful, and that the peace of Europe will not be disturbed."

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

The Chronicle, of this morning, says:

"When the Senate adjourned last night, the impression seemed to be almost universal that there would be no quorum in either house on the third of July next. The feeling between the senators and the Executive was so comparatively, cordial, and the intelligence from the South, promising submission to the terms of the reconstruction act, so auspicious, that very few doubted that the great measures of Congress had anticipated and foreclosed all chance of difficulty and dissension."

The Senate adjourned, leaving about twenty positions vacant which, under the tenure of office law, the President cannot fill.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 21.

Three more whiskey distilleries in Brooklyn were seized yesterday. Cornelius and Wm. Murphy, in charge of a distillery under seizure, have been arrested for allowing whiskey to be removed from the premises.

A young lady, named Lizzie Smith, aged twenty three, was brutally outraged, on Friday night, near Bergen, New Jersey, by sixteen ruffians in succession. Three men have been arrested and identified, as a part of the gang, by their victim.

The Herald's Leavenworth correspondence says affairs on the plains are becoming interesting.—Gen. Sherman has arrived at Leavenworth. Gen. Augur is about to move westward from Fort Kearney, with six thousand men. Eleven thousand Indians are encamped between Fort Kearney and Fort Smith, waiting until grass to commence hostilities.

GREAT FIRE IN SAVANNAH.

SAVANNAH, April 29.

Frisbee and Nearon's Cotton Warehouse was totally destroyed by fire last night. 500 or 600 bales of cotton were destroyed. No insurance on the building. P. H. Babo loses 300 bales. Insured for $40.000. Frisbee & Neason's loss is $40,000 and insured for $20.000. A dwelling house adjoining was destroyed on which was no insurance. The total loss is $100,0000. Three firemen were injured, though not seriously.

SENATOR WILSON IN VIRGINIA—HE IS REPLIED TO.

RICHMOND, April 21.

Senator Wilson spoke at Orange C. H. yesterday. He recounted the events which led to the war. He said, after its close, the North had no ill feeling for the South. The South was submissive, and had the measure now pending been adopted directly at its close the South would have said, the government was just as liberal.—But when Johnson assumed power he adopted a different policy, which has brought on all this dissatisfaction.

Mr. Lincoln had prepared eight conditions for the pardon of rebels, all of which met his (Mr. Wilson's) approval. Mr. Johnson prepared fourteen, which were six too many. He, Mr. Wilson, had never favored the twenty thousand dollar clause, for he wanted all, except a few prominent rebels, to be at liberty to go to work. The South had complained of Congress in violating the Constitution and yet upheld Mr. Johnson in his violation of the Constitution in restoring the States. The speaker was opposed to a black man's party. Let all who favor human bondage go together, and all who favor freedom and progress go together. If any rebels had cast aside their delusions, let them come and join the Republican party.

Maj. J. H. Lee, State Senator from Orange, replied to Wilson. He charged the introduction of slavery upon the North, and said that Lincoln did not at first intend to liberate the slaves, and that the Southern people were the blacks' best friends.

Mr. Wilson replied that in a year the North would give the negro suffrage. He said that confiscation might follow, if the reconstruction bill was not accepted.

ARKANSAS AND THE INJUNCTION CASES.—Gov. Murphy, of Arkansas, has telegraphed to Senator elect Garland, ordering him not to file a petition for an injuction against the enforcement of the reconstruction bill for that State, as he thinks that a decision against it will not result favorably to the interests of his constituents. Senator Garland has accordingly abandoned his intention to bring the matter before the Supreme Court.

LOUISVILLE has caught the spirit of Northern enterprise, and is rapidly increasing in population, wealth and commercial importance. Since the war she has become the largest tobacco market in the world. A project is on foot to build a bridge across the Ohio at this point, and bids are being received for the masonry work, which alone, it is estimated, will cost some $500,000.

Over fifty disabled soldiers have been entered at Oxford College, Georgia, under the provisions of an act of the Legislature of that State, which allows three hundred dollars per year for each disabled soldier under the age of thirty years, for educational purposes.

Ex-Governor McRae, of Mississippi, advises his fellow citizens to reconstruct themselves forthwith under the Military bill.

The latest news by mail concerning the health of the Princess of Wales is that she was recovering slowly, a great change for the better having taken place. Her mother, the Queen of Denmark, is with her.

Dan Rice has made an engagement to travel with Gardener, Hemming & Co's. circus during the coming season, getting $26,000 for his services. The circus will go under the title of "Dan Rice's Great Show and School of Educated Animals."

Hart L. Stuart, who successfully defended his reputation, some time ago, against a suit raised by his wife for divorce because of criminality, refused to appear to answer a second charge of the same description, and was divorced for his neglect.

An effort is making to revive the turf at Montgomery, Alabama. A figure of eight track, four miles from the city, is to be prepared. A fine gravel road to it will soon be in order, and it is proposed to have a grand celebration there about the 4th of July.

It is confidently expected that a cable will be laid to Cuba via Florida, from New York, and messages transmitted by the first of June.

"ME TOO!"

"We'll seek for flowers in the woods,"
I heard a mother say;
"For in the shady solitude
My children love to play.
Come, Willie, call the other boys,
Ere falls the evening dew;"
And then another little voice,
Soft pleading, said, "Me, too!"

Oh, childish heart that could not bear
Her name should be forgot!
Oh, childish love that longed to share
With all the common lot!
Such tone should ne'er be heard in vain,
So tremulous and true;
A link in that sweet household chain,
She claimed her right—"Me, too!"

But not alone in childhood's years
The heart gives out this cry;
'Tis heard amid the silent tears
Of life's deep agony.
The lonely soul athirst for love,
Will cry as infants do;
And lift, all other tones above,
Its passionate "Me, too!"

Formed by One hand we live and die,
Before one throne we kneel;
The longings of humanity
Send up one deep appeal.
Our nature's tendrils intertwine,
Fed by common dew;
None seek in solitude to pine,
Each heart-throb says "Me, too!"

God teaches us in rank to stand
Firm as brave spirits should;
Joined heart to heart and hand to hand,
In holy brotherhood;
And casting off the ice of pride,
Wear warm hearts mild and true,
Nor from the weakest turn aside,
Who freely cries; "Me, too!"

And little child, who sweetly plead,
With love learnt long ere speech,
Lift up thy golden baby head
To hopes thou yet shall reach;
For when His angels gather in
His holy ones and true,
In that fair garner thou shalt win
A place—He needs 'thee, too."

RUSKIN ON JUDAS.

John Ruskin, in the Crown of Wild Olives, characterises in his trenchant style those who like to make money as imitators of Judas:

"We do great injustice to Iscariot, in thinking him wicked above all common wickedness. He was only a common money-lover, and like all money-lovers, didn't understand Christ; couldn't make out the worth of him or meaning of him. He did not want him to be killed. He was horror struck when be found that Christ would be killed; threw his money away instantly, and hanged himself. How many of our present money-seekers, think you, would have the grace to hang themselves, whoever they killed? But Judas was a common, selfish, muddle-headed, pilfering fellow; his hand always in the bag of the poor, not caring for them. He didn't understand Christ, yet believed in him much more than most of us do; had seen him do miracles, thought he was quite strong enough to shift for himself, and he, Judas, might as well make his own little bye-perquisites out of the affair. Christ would come out of it well enough, and he have thirty pieces.—Now that is the money-seeker's idea, all over the world. He doesn't hate Christ, but can't understand him—he doesn't care for him—sees no good in that benevolent business; makes his own little job out of it, at all events, come what will. And thus, out of every mass of men—your 'free first' men, whose main object is to make money. And they do make it—make it in all sorts of unfair ways, chiefly by the weight and force of money, or what is called the power of capital; that is to say, the power which money, once obtained, has over the labor of the poor, so that the capitalist can take all its produce to himself except the laborer's food. That is the modern Judas' way of 'carrying the bag' and 'bearing what is put therein.'"

Josh Billings.—Has been to a skating carnival and philosophizes accordingly:

Having heard so much sed about skating parks, and the grate amount of helth and mussel they was imparting to the present generashun at a slite advance from fust cost, I bot a ticket and went within the fense. I found the ice in a slippery condishun, covering 5 akers of artifishall water, which was owned by a stock company, and froze to order.

Upon one side of the pond was erected little grocery buildings, where the women sot on benches while the fellers (kivered with blushes) hitched the magic iron tew their feet.

It was a most excitin scene; I wanted to holler "bully," or lay down and roll over.

But I kept in and asked with glory.

As the femail angels put out on the pond, side by side with the mail angels, it waz the most powerful scene I ever stood behind.

The long red tape from their necks swum in the breeze, and the fethers in the jockeys fluttered in the breeze, and other things (tew numerous to menshun) fluttered in the breeze.

I don't think I was more crazy before in my life—on ice.

For 2 long hourse I stood and gazed with dumb excitement.

Az one ov the angells more suddenly than awl the rest, come flying down the track 3 lengths ahead ov her mail angell, all eyes were gorging with her heavunly bust—of speed; she seemed to have cut luce from earth, and wuz bound for the Cape of Good Hope, when awl tew once with gorgeous swoop terrifick, down crumpling into a limpid heep she went with squeel terrick, a living, luvly mass of disastrus skirt and tapring ankle.

Awl gathered around the busted angell; but, lo! in a minnit's space her wings agin was plumed and every fether in its lawful place, and on she flew, laffin like wine thru its buteous blushes.

I had saw enuff—more happiness than belongs tew me—and az I slowly wended back tew my home at the tavern I felt good.

The United States now embrace a territory of about three and a half millions of square miles, while all Europe contains only three and three-fourth millions. The population of Europe is, however, about nine times as great as ours. The recent acquisition, of the Russian Possessions, is an outlying dominion, separated from the nearest part of the previously possessed territory, by six degrees of latitude. We suppose "manifest destiny" will require a struggle with the British for the intervening tract.—The population of the United States embraces four of the five varieties of the human race. We have the Caucasian, the Mongolian, the American, and the Negro,—all but the Malay. Stated in colors, we have the white, the yellow, the red and the black,—all but the brown.—Import a few Malays, or acquire an island in the East Indies, and we will have a complete assortment. The lot, however, is sufficiently mixed as it stands. The Esquimaux, whom we have recently "annexed" on the shores of Behring's Straits, are of the same race with the Chinese."—Lynchburg News.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

Whereas, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. ### SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 186, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or states included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for ——months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof: that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to r presentation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First-class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages.—This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.
